1. After the defection of CIAC and CAFC planes to Hong Kong to the Communists, over 70 planes were impounded by the Hong Kong Government pending legal decision of the case. Staff personnel of the two companies remaining in Hong Kong have not been paid because of a shortage. Because the employees feel that the Communists have only brought them unemployment, they have broken with the Airways Personnel Union in Hong Kong.
2. Members of the Free China Labor League in Hong Kong asked the employees of the two companies to form a new labor union. A new Airways Personnel Union was established on 28 October. The flag of Nationalist China was flown during the inaugural meeting of the union.
